

ELECTRIFICATION EUROPE

2019 INTERNATIONAL SUMMIT

Solutions for a Decarbonized Society

October 16-17, 2019
Palais Brongniart, Paris, France

A NEW SUMMIT ... NEW CONNECTIONS

Hosted by the U.S.-based Electric Power Research Institute (EPRI) and EDF, the inaugural Electrification Europe 2019 International Summit will foster collaboration across continents on end-use electrification and its role in supporting a path toward a low-carbon future.

With efficient end-use electrification feasible in virtually every industry sector, this summit will facilitate connections with global decision-makers on continuing the implementation of electrification solutions to meet climate reduction targets and reap additional benefits for customers and society.

Join diverse and unique electrification leaders at this summit, including:

- Utility managers and representatives from all areas that involve electrification
- Regulators and policy makers
- E-mobility officials and staff
- Representatives at the helm of innovation and processes in various global industries
- Manufacturers and vendors across the value chain of all electric technologies
- Builders, installers, and infrastructure owners and operators
- Energy/environmental analysts and researchers
